Case No. 2020-001445

Mr. Randy Gilchrist and Mrs. Cheryl Gilchrist

v.

Duke Energy Carolinas, LLC

Respondent

Appellants' Reply to Respondent's Return to Appellants' Motion to Remand Case to Public Service Commission For Hearing

This case concerns the appellants' right to privacy in their own home. The respondent refers to appellants' right to privacy as being "philosophically opposed" and claims that this opposition does not rise to the 'level of a judiciable controversy.' The respondent also claims that our claim is not a Commission-jurisdictional violation" as required by SC Codes Annotated § 58-27-1940. Respondent also claims that the Commission "appropriately exercised its statutorily granted authority to dismiss the complaint without the need for a hearing."

The appellants assert, however, that statutory and regulatory issues aside, the issue here is a constitutionally-protected right to privacy by both the South Carolina Constitution and the United States Constitution. The Public Service Commission (hereinafter "PSC") is bound by those constitutions, and therefore should have held a hearing on the right to privacy and allowed the Gilchrists to present their evidence that their rights are/were violated by the installation and use of a smart meter, over our objections.

WHEREFORE remand to the Commission is warranted and appropriate in this case. There is a glaring procedural defect that warrants remanding this case to the PSC for a hearing on the constitutionally-protected rights of the appellants which have been violated. Again, appellants respectfully move this court to remand this case back to the PSC for a hearing on the constitutional issues concerning the right to privacy.
